

Chamber Music Houston Announces Annie Moore as Executive Director

Houston's premiere chamber music presenter welcomes relationship-driven leader with nonprofit, business, and community engagement experience

HOUSTON, Texas — August 1, 2026 — Chamber Music Houston today announced the appointment of Annie Moore as Executive Director, ushering in a new chapter for one of Houston's long-standing classical music presenting organizations.

Moore brings a blend of nonprofit leadership, business development, operations, and community engagement experience to the role. Her background includes building meaningful partnerships, strengthening organizational visibility, and connecting mission-driven organizations with the community.

"We are delighted to welcome Annie Moore as Executive Director," said Marc Sofia, Chamber Music Houston Board of Director President. "Her relationship-centered approach, vibrant energy, and unwavering commitment to fostering community engagement will enable Chamber Music Houston to sustain its mission of extraordinary chamber music experiences to audiences throughout the greater Houston region."

As Executive Director, Moore will work closely with the Board of Directors, artists, patrons, community partners, and staff to support Chamber Music Houston's artistic programming, audience development, fundraising, and educational initiatives in area schools and universities.

"I am honored to join Chamber Music Houston and to help advance its mission of sharing world-class chamber music with this community," Moore said. "I look forward to working with the Board, artists, patrons, and partners to build on the organization's remarkable legacy while expanding opportunities for connection, access, and engagement."

Founded in 1960, Chamber Music Houston presents a full season of chamber music concerts featuring leading musicians and ensembles from around the world. Through concerts and related programs, the organization fosters a greater appreciation of chamber music throughout the greater Houston community.
